Using the starter code provided on the course website complete all the methods as written in the descriptions provided. There are eight methods which must be written.

Do not modify the testing method.

The program will test your methods and assign a completeness score when run out of 30. Submitting code that compiles, and produces a score of 30/30 is expected.

Submit your modified version of the starter code labeled:
`a4_152.java` (or `.pde`)

Each program must include (in a comment) your name, the date, and the course information. They may contain other comments.
